

AN INTRODUCTION TO BIODYNAMICS

This one day workshop will introduce you to all practical aspects needed to apply biodynamics in your commercial enterprise or in your garden

Presented by:

Hamish Mackay

Hamish has been working with biodynamics for 35 years and presents biodynamics as a cost effective and enjoyable way to produce high quality food and fibre suitable for human health and well-being; at the same time improving our environment.

Ken Mason

Ken is a third generation fruit and vegetable farmer. He has been using permaculture, organic and biodynamic farming principles on his certified biodynamic farm for over 20 years. He operates his farm using minimal inputs while still producing quality produce sought after in the Market place.

Shane Joyce

Shane has spent 30 years evolving his holistic approach to agriculture to include Permaculture, Natural Resource Management, Biodynamics and now to agriculture as a basis for community development. Shane uses his property as a path of learning both agricultural and social and is an enthusiastic presenter of new options for graziers, croppers and gardeners.
